

Myfollo : PROPCARE (Simplifying life!)

Owning a property is beyond happiness for anyone but with that comes several responsibilities. Maintenance and Management are one and the most important among it, as doing so can be clumsy, incommodious and inefficient.

With every problem comes a solution. Addressing this issue the answer is Property Marketing which means to exhibit your property on diverse platforms from which tenants would know all the features well in advance. It's a unique way of marketing to ensure easy and quick immediate leasing and reduce the vacancy cycle.

As a known fact, joining hands together can make any work easier and effortless. So with us the 'Propcare' family, a professional property management company providing consultancy services in real estate matters, you can now sit back at the comfort of your home and enjoy managing your property/properties being stress free.

We help our clients to mechanize their own property by imparting managements on day-to-day operations including cleanings, Inspections, lettings, Interiors, Possession Take Over Assistance, managing reporting procedures, Paper works, Customer Services and are ready to address any other issues related to their asset.

We don't stop here. With this, we also specialize in residential leasing and managing lease expiration, renewals and also offer guidance on legal formalities such as preparing lease deed, registration of lease and other paper related works. We have an exhaustive approach towards our clients requirements like arranging site visits, Selection of specific property, Obtaining detailed proposal from property owner, Fixing meetings of tenant and owner, lease negotiation, approval from both the parties, Drafting and signing of the lease documents.

To us, our priority is the client satisfaction and we shall not leave any stone unturned to satiate them.
